My Hope Is Found, the third book in Joanne Bischof's series The Cadence of Grace, did not disappoint. Continuing with the story of Gideon and Lonnie, a love triangle emerges in the Appalachian mountains which is not resolved until the end. Picking up at the end of Though My Heart Is Torn, Gideon is heading back to his beloved Lonnie and Jacob.

During the past thirty years, museums of all kinds have tried to become more responsive to the interests of a diverse public. With exhibitions becoming people-centered, idea-oriented, and contextualized, the boundaries between museums and the "real" world are eroding. Setting the transition from object-centered to story-centered exhibitions in a philosophical framework, Hilde S. Hein contends that glorifying the museum experience at the expense of objects deflects the museum's educative, ethical, and aesthetic roles. Referring to institutions ranging from art museums to theme parks, she shows how deployment has replaced amassing as a goal and discusses how museums now actively shape and create values.

Pietro Bembo (1470-1547), scholar and critic, was one of the most admired Latinists of his day. The poems in this volume come from all periods of his life and reflect both his erudition and his wide-ranging friendships. This volume also includes the prose dialogue Etna, an account of Bembo's ascent of Mt. Etna in Sicily during his student days.

A Voice in the Wilderness (PB) by Giovanni Baptista The internal light of truth burns in us all. How brightly it burns is determined by how much we feed the fire with the faith, hope, and love with which it burns. Even in the darkness, it will show the way, for it is then that it burns the brightest. It can only be fed with the knowledge of your inner being, which is reliant on that power greater than you. No one can take it away. It is only you who can give it up. It is the force, the constant that you hold from birth to physical death and beyond. If you fail to understand its meaning, you are doomed to walk in eternal darkness. You are dead within. A Voice in the Wilderness is a collection of inspirational poems taken from author Giovanni Baptista's experience in excess of four decades serving his country, state, and community in the military and in law enforcement. (2017, Paperback, 118 pages)

THE BRIEF AND GLORIOUS REIGN OF KING FREDERICK THE BRAVE By: Lewis Segal THE BRIEF AND GLORIOUS REIGN OF KING FREDERICK THE BRAVE is the story of an ordinary man nearing the end of his life who finds himself drawn into the 1956 uprising of the Hungarian people against the brutal domination of their country by the Soviet Union. Although nothing in his life prepared him for the emotions he would feel or the actions he would take, Fred Albrecht exhibits leadership skills, military prowess, economic insights, and - above all - courage of legendary proportions. Can a bland and unfulfilling life be redeemed and given meaning and love in the midst of a violent and hopeless struggle against oppression?

By the Hand of God By: Wendi Landis-Talkington By the Hand of God presents the compelling and emotional story of Wendi's journey through illness and uncertainty, coming out on the other side with the help of her faith and family. The theme of the book is survival - no matter what life throws at you don't give up, don't lose hope, and always have faith.

First published in 1972, The Hope of Progress presents collection of essays and lectures dealing with the history of scientific ideas and the impact of science on society. The principle piece in this volume is the author's 1969 presidential address to the British Association 'On The Effecting of All Things Possible', an argument for believing in the ability of science to solve the problems it has itself created, and which too many of us believe insoluble. It contains author's Romanes Lecture on 'Science and Literature' and a well known critique of J.D. Watson's notorious account of the discovery of the molecular structure of DNA, The Double Helix. Other chapters discuss the possibility of the control and domination by science of the body and mind of Man- though the author concludes in 'The Genetic Improvement of Man' : 'I think that, in the main, for many centuries to come, we shall have to put up with human beings as they are at present constituted'. This book will be useful for scholars and researchers of history of science, philosophy of science, natural science, and philosophy in general.

This is a book about finding friendship where you would least expect it. PB and Brown Bear take you to a place where it can be more than just using your imagination.

One of the major English Romantic poets and is widely considered to be among the finest lyric poets in the English language.

The Apple Knocker By: G C Miller When John Cuyler catches his wife Mary in the arms of Gary Duncan, it sets off a series of violent events in their small Nebraska town. Eight years later, Mary struggles to keep the past behind her and provide for her two young children. After a series of brutal murders, it's clear the past isn't done with her. From 1950s small towns to gritty hobo camps, from danger to familial love, The Apple Knocker is an intimate and sweeping look at obsession and hope.

My Little Bird By: Theresa H. Kulla-Klink My Little Bird is a nonfiction experience from Theresa H. Kulla-Klink about her life before, during, and after WWII. The most interesting parts of this book are summed up in one word: LIFE. This is her long life experience, which includes the ups and downs of life. May Theresa's messages in My Little Bird inspire and remind you to never give up in life.
