A history of the nightclub from Studio 54 to the Double Club Nightclubs and discothèques are hotbeds of contemporary culture. Throughout the 20th century, they have been centres of the avant-garde that question the established codes of social life and experiment with different realities, merging interior and furniture design, graphics and art with sound, light, fashion and special effects to create a modern Gesamtkunstwerk. Night Fever: A Design History of Club Culture examines the history of the nightclub, with examples ranging from Italian nightclubs of the 1960s that were created by members of the Radical Design group to the legendary Studio 54 in New York, Philippe Starck's Les Bains Douches in Paris and the more recent Double Club in London, conceived by German artist Carsten Höller for the Prada Foundation. Featuring films and vintage photographs, posters and fashion, Night Fever takes the reader on a fascinating journey through a world of glamour, subculture and the search for the night that never ends.

Story and travels of Rev Johannes Myors. Since Feb 19, 1993, Rev Myors has cycled almost 265,000 miles in Canada and the United States. In 72 missionary bike tours, Rev Myors has performed evangelism, spoken at almost 1,100 churches, performed roadside counseling, helped after natural disasters, helped build homes with Habitat for Humanity and the Fuller Center for Housing, and promoted compassionate social action. With every revolution of his bike wheels, a prayer went up to Heaven. Rev Myors was born in Bavaria, Germany to parents who were Holocaust survivors. After spending 18 months in yeshiva training to be a rabbi, he dropped out. In December, 1975 during Hanukkah, Rev Myors bought an English New Testament and became a Jewish believer in Jesus. During Passover 1976, his family banished him and declared him dead. In 1979 after spending a year as an elementary school teacher, Johannes immigrated to the United States and became a naturalized citizen in 1984 while working at a college in Florida. In 1998, Johannes was ordained an Evangelical Christian minister.
